Lethal Company is a game all about teamwork and helping others in difficult situations. If players are ready for a challenge and want to play alone, they can do so, but then the gameplay can become very uncomfortable. This guide describes how to start a solo playthrough in Lethal Company.

Hey. Jester can reset to the normal box mode if all of your team is outside the facility for 5+ seconds ( estimated ). The best tactic would be just taking all the loot out and dragging it to the ship once you encounter the box and it starts playing, usually enough time passes for the jester to calm down and allow you to loot a bit more.

Welcome to the Lethal Company subreddit! We're a community centered around the popular horror co-op game, Lethal Company! ... Sadly, if you are solo, coilheads are almost always run killers. However if you have someone at the terminal you can try to lock the coilhead in a dead end behind a huge door. btw I'm planning on writing a guide on ...

Let's go through a more advanced strategy. For the best strategy in Lethal Company, you'll need to assign team roles based on the time. Between 8-12, all players should simply rush in with flashlights to explore and get loot, while one should also have a Walkie-Talkie. Optionally, you can have 1-2 stun grenades and a shovel.

Hi everyone! There's been plenty of changes on the leaderboards recently! Firstly, we've recently added the Ironman challenge as a speedrun category to the main leaderboards! There's two different variants of this challenge.

I'm currently at 719 and i gotta tell you, it felt like i stored a lot of stuff, but ive quickly ran out, i think i got maybe 800ish in the shelf and on the floor, but i doubt i can get to the next quota at all, which'll be what, 1k ish? i think for my first solo experience, 1k might actually be my current limit, i'll try and get past it but i doubt i could, i tried to get as much as possible ...

To summarize, the best Lethal Company strategy involves all four players looting until 12 noon, then one staying on the ship and giving info. The other players should stay and loot until 6 pm. After that, two should leave to transfer loot, while one can stay if they want to risk it for more loot.

Who needs friends anyway. Lethal Company isn't the kind of game that you can play without friends. Not that you'd even want to, considering all of the monsters you have to try and survive. For those who would much rather have a solo experience, however, it's definitely possible if you know what you're doing.

Prioritize your loot, focus on small items that can go in your pocket that weigh less and are more valuable, and one two handed item. Once you have 3-4 items you can carry all at once, make ...

Now, I know that Forest Giants are largely believed to be the most unbalanced monster, and for good reason. They see you from super far away and are faster than you, with very little you can do for a counterplay, especially early on. I might be in the minority, but I actually much prefer Forest Giants to the Coilheads. The reason being, Coilheads are boring at best, ...
