The need to reduce greenhouse gas emissions has catalysed the rapid growth of renewable energy worldwide. However, the intermittent nature of renewable energy requires the support of energy storage systems (ESS) to provide ancillary services and save excess energy for use at a later time.

1.1. Compressed air energy storage concept. CAES, a long-duration energy storage technology, is a key technology that can eliminate the intermittence and fluctuation in renewable energy systems used for generating electric power, which is expected to accelerate renewable energy penetration [7], [11], [12], [13], [14].

In the context of China's new power system, various regions have implemented policies mandating the integration of new energy sources with energy storage, while also introducing subsidies to alleviate project cost pressures. Currently, there is a lack of subsidy analysis for photovoltaic energy storage integration projects.
