We're connecting young learners around the world through the power of solar lights with our hands-on discovery classroom sessions. As part of our Schools Programme, we teach students about the life-changing power of solar light for off-grid families, where our lights replace kerosene lamps and give children limitless hours for study without ...

Are All Solar Lights Battery Powered? While the majority of solar lights are engineered to take advantage of battery power technology, not every single solar light is going to have the capability to accept batteries. In these cases, the solar lights may be tapped into a traditional power grid. Almost All Solar Lights Use Battery Power

Still, if you're looking for a stylish set of solar-powered mock torches, the TomCare Solar Torch lights are the way to go. The Luposwiten Solar Motion Sensor Lights is another solid choice for a motion sensor floodlight.

For a minimalist look, these small solar-powered outdoor lights from Solpex are designed to run along a deck railing or at the edge of steps. Like many of our picks, they charge during the day and automatically turn on at night without a timer. When fully charged, the lights reportedly cast their dim glow for up to 10 hours.

Using solar-powered outdoor lights can set that glowing backyard ambiance in a more sustainable way, and eliminates the need for long, ugly cords or constant battery replacement. They're powered by solar cells that convert sunlight into electricity, which is then stored in an internal battery.

We installed the solar light near the side of our house, facing our gate, and discovered that it provided an impressive 10 feet x 10 feet of lighted area. At 1000 lumens (the highest on our list), we found that the light's maximum range was roughly 25 feet, which is rather good for a solar-powered light. Setting up the lights was also a breeze.

If you're looking for a large number of solar-powered stake lights--without breaking the bank--we recommend the Sunnest Life Solar Lights. This set comes with 12 lights, which is more than enough to line a walkway or path. In testing, they all came on right around the same time, around dusk.
